Goal Oriented

Goals

- Boost CV
- Finish Education
- Get a job in the Design Industry
- Expand Network

Frustrations

- Building on your resumé while attending school
- The difficulty of standing out on the Job Market fresh out of a university
- Competitive Job Market

Bio

Giselle is studying media design in Copenhagen, but has found that many graduates from the same lines of education have trouble finding jobs once they have graduated. Therefore she wants her resumé to stand out and furthermore she wants to build on her skills. She has trouble putting a pricetag on her work due to the fact that she has yet to finish her education - so she is in search of a platform where she can build on her skills and make new contacts in the business with the little time she has between courses at her education.
